HARD TIMES ARE FUN TIMES

There's no time to waste when you're with FFA and Ag. Co-op. Ag. Co-op helps to get jobs for each individual and after a while, students come to see what each other has learned with their projects. FFA means going to the Urbana Convention to show off prize livestock, horses and garden projects. Some go to fairs at Peotone or Joliet. Its fun to show off when you've worked so hard.

LEARN WORK AND GET PAID

Some students get paid for going to school. These are members of Industrial Co-op. They work for various Naperville companies and get school credit and wages. Besides that they leave school after 4th or 5th hour to go to work.

Some clubs help you to obtain the skills to get a good job. Distributive Education is one. Mr.

Trinko and the officers of the club encourage you to learn your skills and knowledge of distribution and marketing for the type of job you want. You get credit during class and on the job. Competition exists with all the Dupage County officers in D.E. D.E. sponsors field trips, fund raising drives and annual banquets. Its a combination effort, but you'll learn fast.

STRIVING TO LEARN, EARN, AID

While still in school, any student can gain practical experience in a specific career by enrolling in the Cooperative Education Program. Girls who plan to enter secretarial careers enroll under Office Education, which combines classroom and on-the-job training with pay.

When the dog bites and the bee starts stinging and the cold bug settles down for the winter inside you, a nurse or physician can help to lift your spirits. Health Careers offers to interested students an opportunity to taste a life in the field of medicine.

Daffodils are the sign of the Tri-R's at NCHS. The girls sell the flowers to benefit the Children's Research Foundation, which is primarily concerned with combatting leukemia.

AIDS PASS THE BUCK

Both North and Central have library aids that keep up with the constant work of checking out books, typing, and filing. For their un-paid work, they have kept a respectable, orderly library.

When those blue and pink passes come around you can curse the aids of Attendance or Guidance. But one good thing that they do is keep the counselors in touch with students. Their needs keep these students walking around the building in circles.

REACH FOR THE STARS

The Astronomy club reaches for stars from the observatory they built from an old silo located south of Naperville. They also visited other observatories in Racine, Wisconsin and Palos Park as part of a larger club which hold a convention each year they presented an observational exhibit.

Constant practices by math clubs keeps NCHS ratings high. Each week a new topic prepares them for the State Mathematics Contest. This year the finalists were Janet Peerson, Mark Sebastian and Sue Wygant.

POSTERS AND PROJECTORS

GAA Board performed many vital tasks for the girls involved in sports. They made posters that announced an upcoming game and posters to cheer on the girls. They organized the banquets and the outing they went on. The A.V. aids helped to distribute the films and projectors. They also helped to repair the projectors and the tape machines that broke.

JOURNALISM GAINS RECOGNITION

North Newspaper changed it's name and also boasted of other activities. They joined with the Student Council to co-sponsor a fund raising drive for a school in an under-developed country. For Homecoming they sponsored the first North float entitled "The Front Page". With the patience and guidance of their advisor, Mrs. Lord, "North News" has increased from four to five editions.

Icarian has also increased in staff and number of pages. The overwhelming prose, poetry, and haikus were critiqued and voted on. The completed magazine is solely a student creation.

A TIME TO DANCE

Orchesis is a group of people who use the art form of dance to express themselves. There are no requirements to join other than a desire to dance and to have continuous attendance. The group participates in various assemblies such as, Homecoming, and they also performed at the Girls Sports Banquet. Mrs. Prast led her troupe of dancers through another annual concert last spring.

FLIPPERS TO SKIS

With water at a chilling 34 degrees, the NCHS Scuba Club had dives at such places as Lake Geneva and Belmont Harbor. When not on special trips they practiced dives in nearby small lakes and quarries. The Intermediate lessons at Four Lakes got the Ski Club members ready to hit the slopes. They took a weekend trip to Rib Mountain in Wisconsin. They also spent a day at Willmount.

SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS

Varsity Club's major goal is to induce school spirit. Many activities are sponsored. Track Troopers is a group of girls which is a vital part of the boys' track meets. They are active in timing, scoring and cheering the boys on to victory. Senior Leaders have many jobs such as taking roll and setting up equipment. They also get the experience of teaching and helping others during P.E. class.

FOR OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT...

Quill and Scroll students were chosen on the basis that they worked on either the school newspaper or the yearbook and had to be in the upper third of their class to receive the award. National Honor students were chosen because of their character, leadership, scholarship, and service. The five National Merit members were chosen on the basis of their grade point average, and their score on the SAT, which qualified them for certain scholarships.

ARROWHEAD WORKS TO THE FINISH LINE

Since there was a smaller staff this year, the students had to work harder to make deadlines. A senior signature book was issued in May to allow seniors to collect signatures and notes from their friends. The yearbook was issued in September to all freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Though in previous years an additional supplement of spring activities had been issued, this year's activities were all in the yearbook.

COUNCILS CONQUER '74

Councils conquered again this year. Many fund-raising activities were quite successful. The Student Advisory Council has become the voice of the student body. Senior Class Council was noted for their "Roll 'Em" float in the Homecoming Parade. It earned them first place. The Senior class also brought us two dances, Homecoming and Spring. Speaking of dances, the Junior Class, after hard months of work presented the best dance ever, Prom, 1974.

LANGUAGES COME ALIVE

An interesting touch to an American school is the Foreign Language Department. Some of the students have gotten together to keep the tradition of the clubs in each of the various languages alive.

The French Club had their 4th annual Christmas carolling party. They took part in the Homecoming Parade as '3 Muskateer' float. German Club also added their mark in the parade. New to the club this year is a monthly German newspaper mailed to each member of the club. Spanish Club had a Christmas dinner and attended a play that was enjoyed by all.

WHAT'S COOKING?

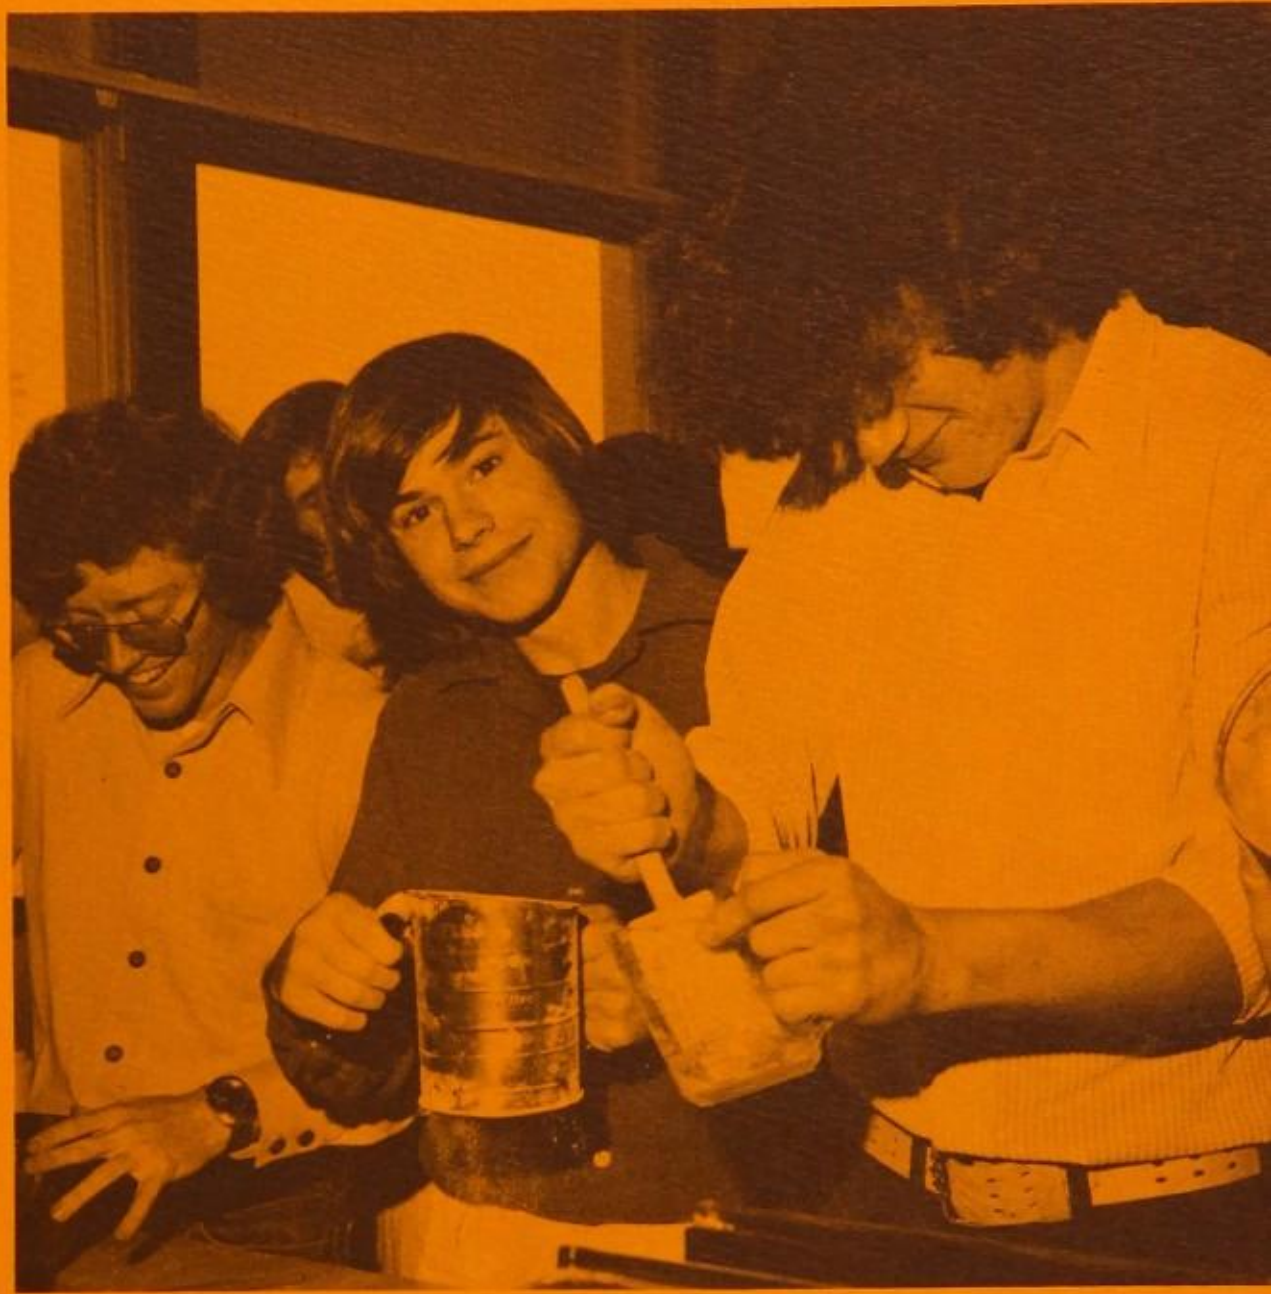

Did you ever try to fry an omelet on a library table? This is how the students in foods classes learned to cook while the process of installing new foods kitchens was going on. Clothing I was busy with projects like child's garment, lined suit, a garment of your choice and more. The future chefs showed they could be liberated too. Creations such as chicken, spaghetti, omelets, donuts, etc. were made . . . and sometimes eaten.

WRECKLESS WHEELS

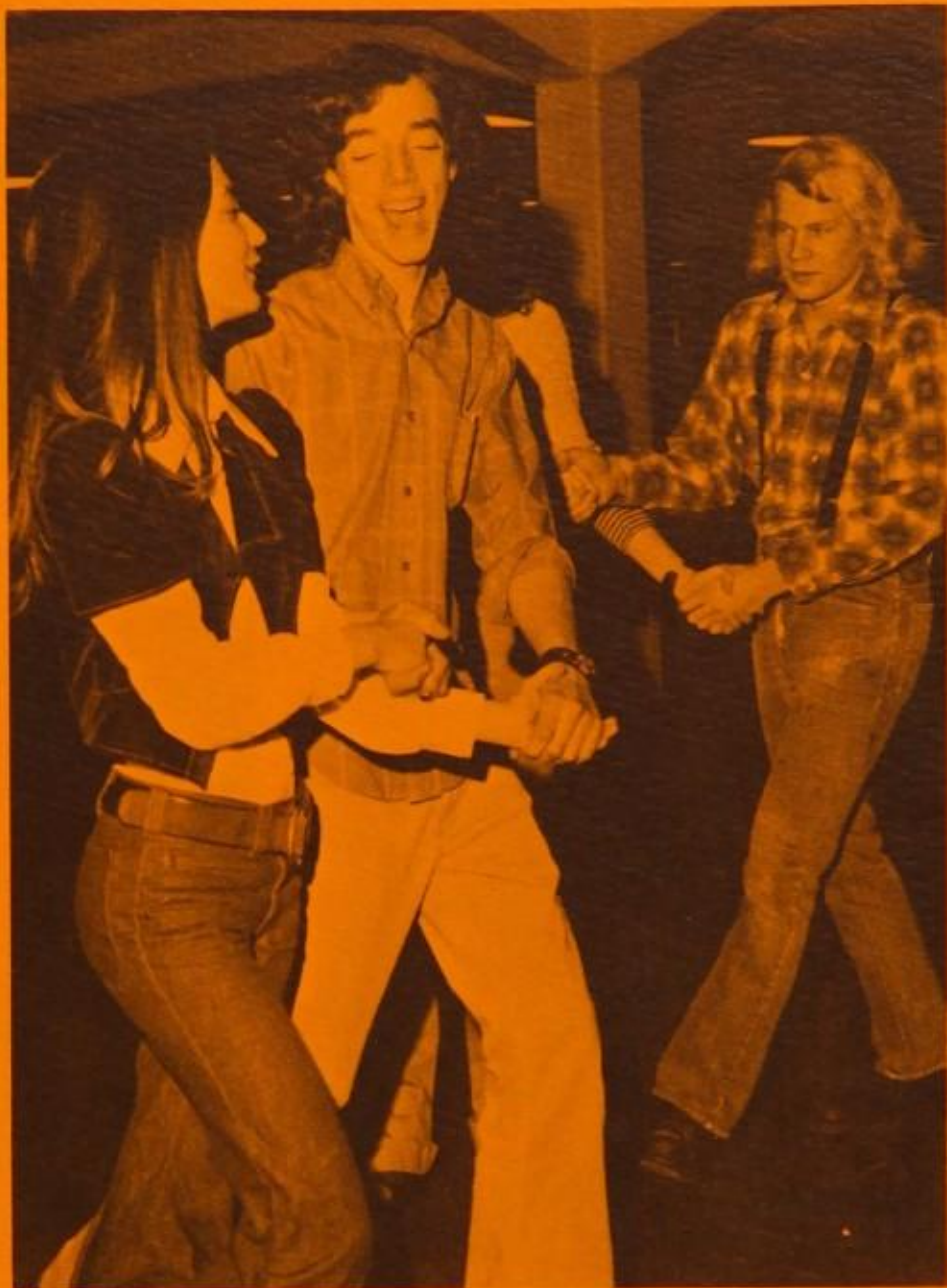

More student drivers from North, Benet, and Central "had a gas" this year. Between the range and "on the road" driving they gained practical experience. At the range a few of the things they learned were three point turns, backend turn around, and angle parking among other things. There was also an overabundance of run over cones. In the room they still used the stimulators, and saw "interesting" movies on how to drive.

HAPPINESS IS HAVING GYM

DIFFERENT LANGUAGES LEAD TO NEW DISCOVERIES

Students are seeking new discoveries of different countries around the world. Through films, record players, language skills and storybooks students were able to learn not only the language and grammar but also the different customs of the countries. There is a choice of four languages; French, German, Spanish and Latin. Whatever a student's desire is, each language gives him a feel of what it's like to be of that nationality.

MATHEMATICIANS CONSTRUCT NEW IDEAS

Approximately 1500 students successfully completed another year with the Math Department. Working with protractors, compasses, graphing charts and slide rules most math problems were more easily solved. Students were able to apply their art talents constructing triangles, circles and trapezoids. Computer Analysis class worked to show the relationship of machine computation to mathematical principles. NCHS completed the National Mathematics Contest this year, 17th in state and in the top 5%.

A FILM PARADE

The themes of this year's floats were borrowed from great movies of years gone by, such as "Ben Hur", and "The Three Musketeers". Each title was altered to voice a threat to the challenging Blackhawks and to boost the Redskins toward an Upstate Eight championship. Seniors took the prize for best class float, and Chorus captured outstanding float of their class.

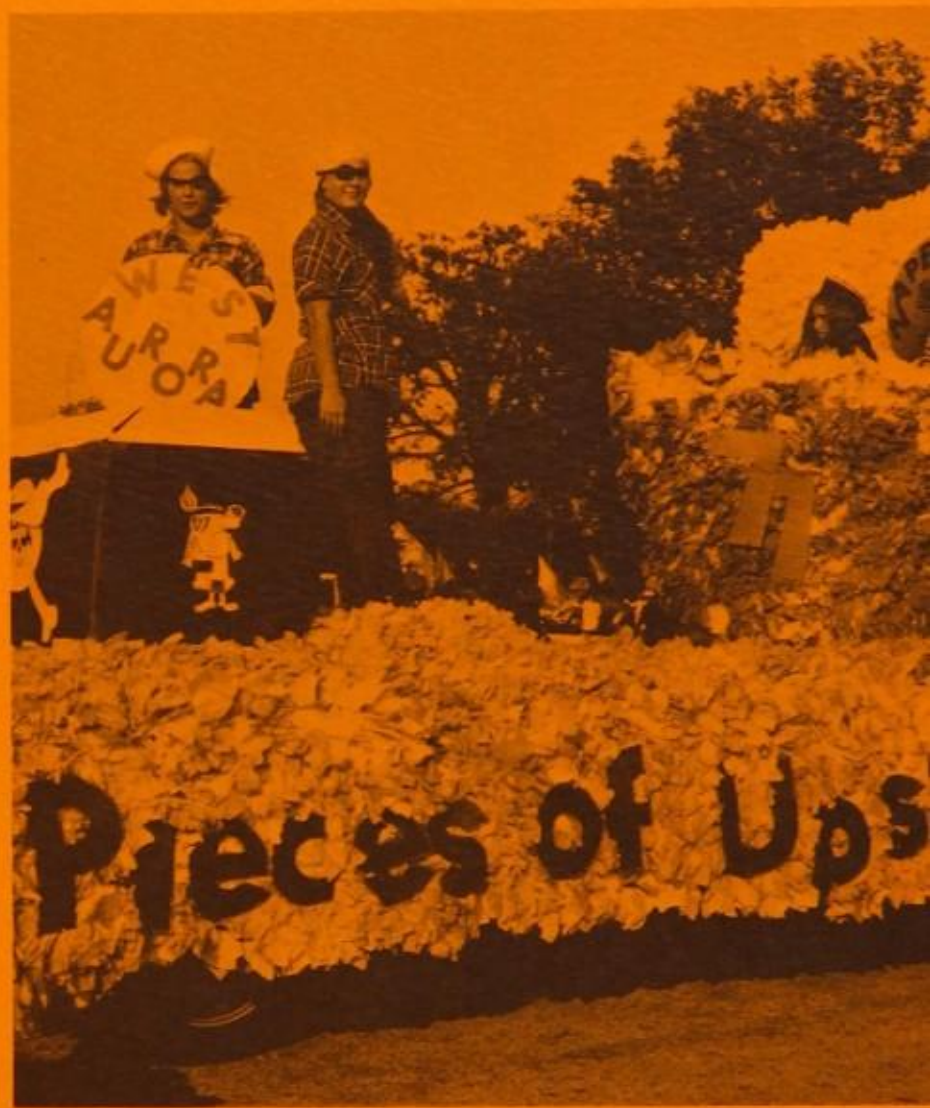

A. Beware Blackhawks for the bells will toll for thee! B. A paperboy out of the past predicts a future Redskin victory. C. The concentration needed to keep in time is shown on the face of Doug Smith and his fellow musicians. D. These fearsome looking pirates are on the search for pieces of the Upstate Eight championship. E. NCHS's Ben Hur, Don Kay, leads the Skins on to a win.

COME ON REDSKINS YELL!

The Homecoming Pep Rally kept most of Naperville awake for part of the night. Each class competed for superior class enthusiasm and most deafening cheer and song. Pompon girls performed many rhythmic routines. A magnificent bonfire was the height of the evening. Redskins walked away sure of a homecoming victory.

WHEN MOVIES WERE MOVIES

On October 20, couples entered a time machine which transported them back to the late 50's and 60's. The air was filled with nostalgia, and "oldies but goodies" were played by the Pleasure Principle. Cookies and punch helped revive the tired dancers. The journey ended too quickly and the travelers returned to a cool 1973 evening.

SWING YOUR PARTNER

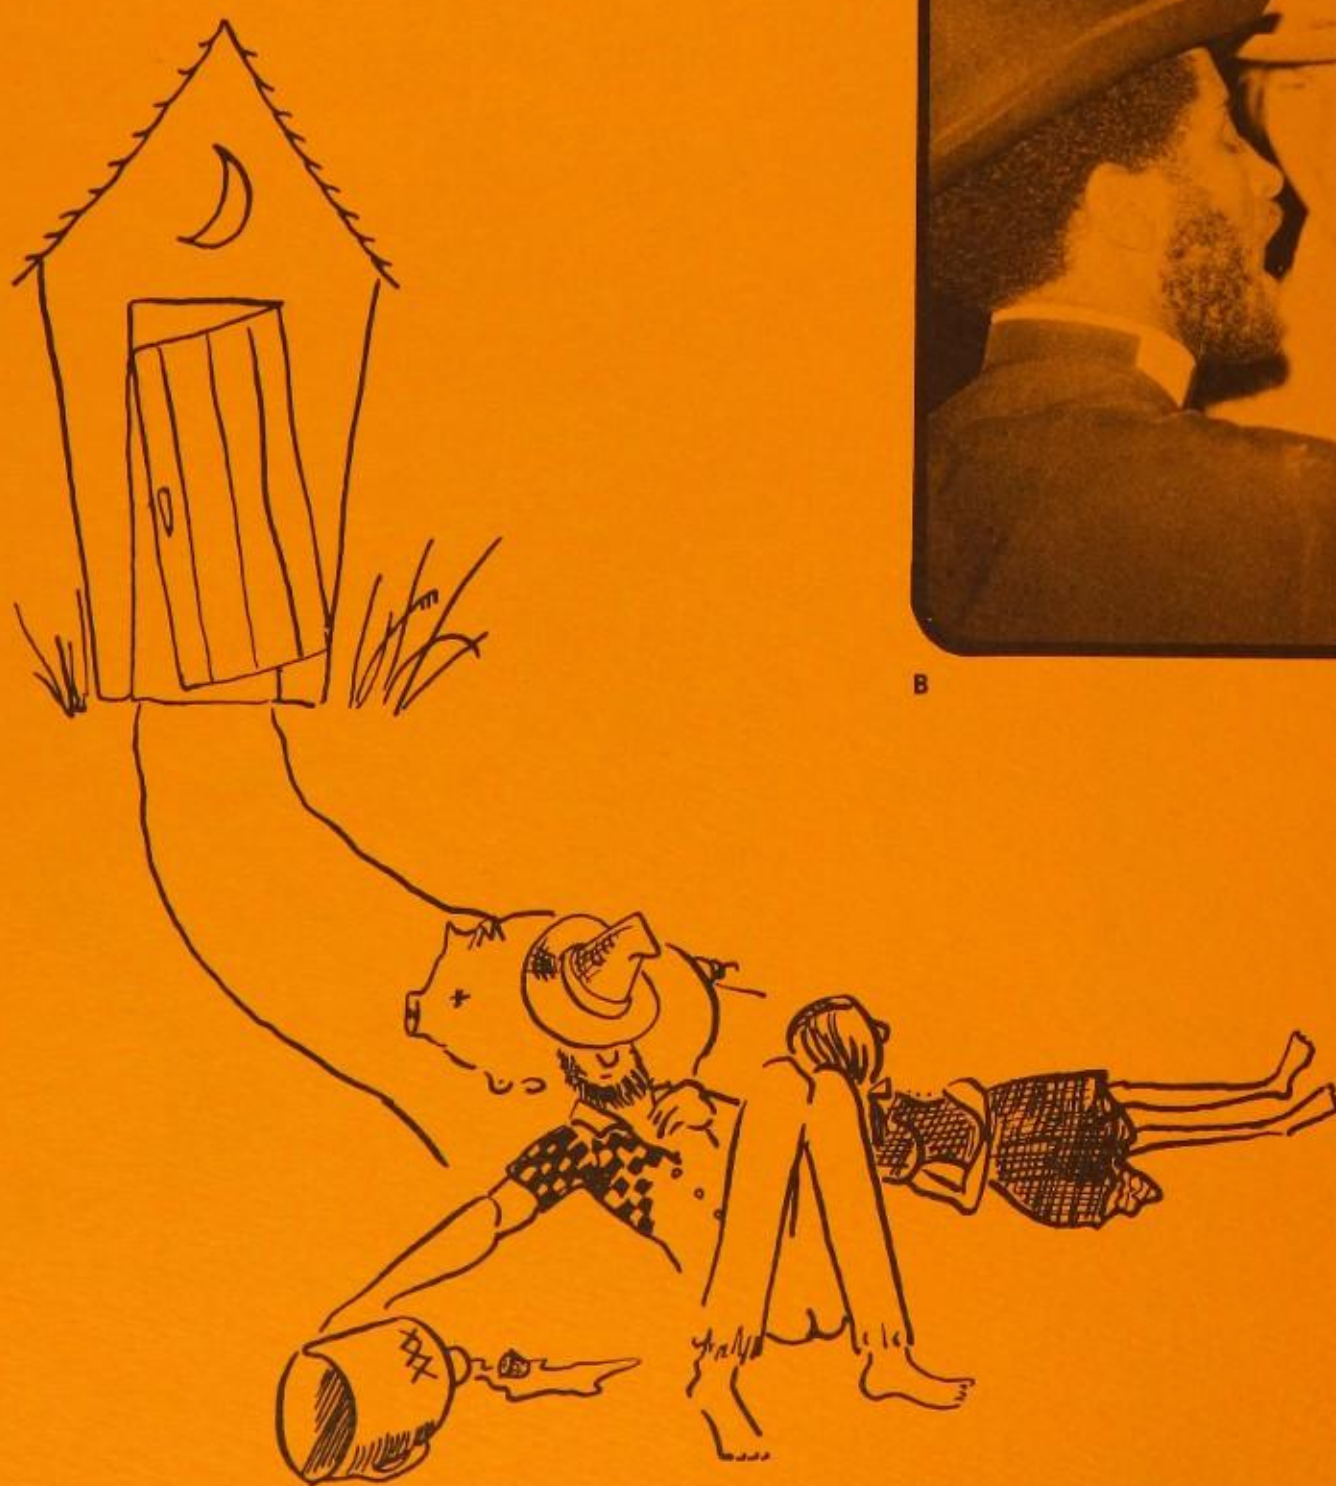

Girls are no cowards when it comes to asking their favorite guys to Sadie Hawkins. Couples square danced to the beat of modern music dressed in country costumes. The ladies swung their partners up to Marryin' Sam. Before the fellows knew what was happening, a washer had been placed on their finger by their bride and they were off to honeymoon haven.

A. Chris Weissenborn screeches, "He finally said he'd marry me!" B. Marryin' Sam asks Diane Milkovich "What are your intentions for marryin' this fine boy Scott Stone?"

THEN, NOW, AND COMING

The Social Studies Department has gone all out to give students a variety of study topics from which to choose. Along with required courses, anthropology, psychology, sociology and comparative religions are also offered. The department has turned room 251 into a social studies room. Students can come in and read and study books and pamphlets about different societies. There are artifacts from the past as well as world and war maps to gaze upon. Students who enter this room can travel to the past, future, or study the incidents happening now.

A

A. Mr. Teela explains to Paul Menne, Leslie Renfrow and Karen Baker the workings of an ancient civilization. B. Loretta Ceranek takes some time to check over the world's situation before returning to class.

PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE

Students involved in Business Education classes prepare for the oncoming and challenging world. With all the different business courses offered at NCHS such as shorthand, research marketing, bookkeeping, and office practice, a student receives good training for a career in business. Other courses are not necessarily related to business. Notehand is a college preparatory course, and data processing initiates a student to the oncoming computer age.

A. "I see them too," agrees Lisa Tuskan. B. Too much practice makes me see keyboards everywhere. C. "Does that say what I think it says?" wonders Joanne. D. "Alright who took the 'H' key," asks Yvonne Lafave.

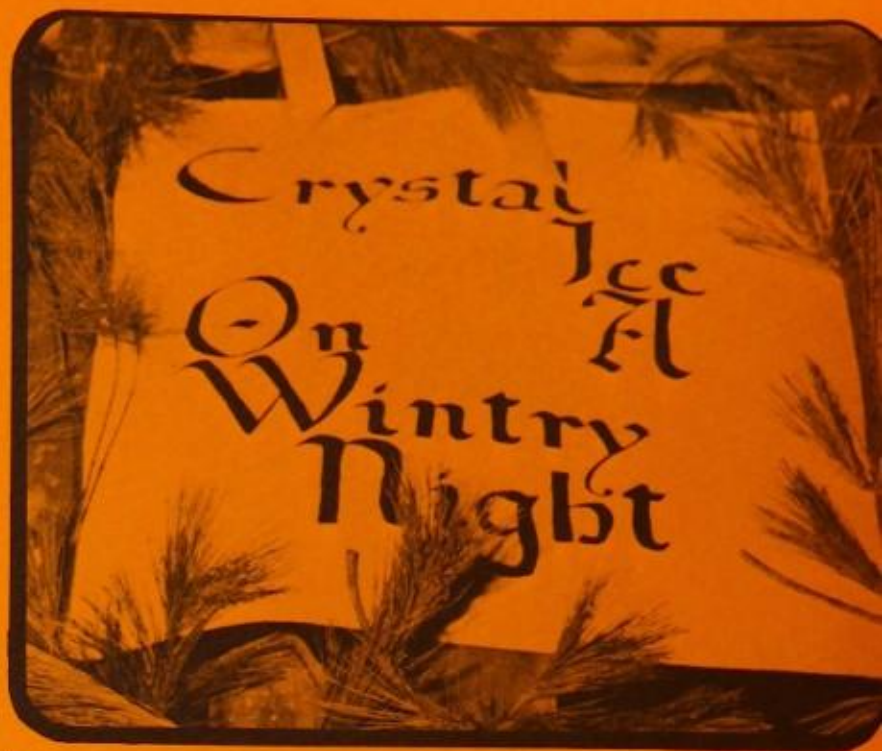

A. "I don't think that's so funny" says Karen Winkler to Miss Matter.
B. No Sue, this is not a dirty picture book.

WITH EYES AGLOW . . .

While crystal ice was tossed about on the wintry night of December 15, couples kept warm dancing to the music of "Kaleidoscope". Paper snowflakes floated from the ceiling, while a grinning snowman chaperoned the couples who just happen to pass under the mistletoe. A Christmas tree laden with sparkling ornaments, shed light on those who came to check the presents under its boughs. Velvet and lace filled the Barn, as well as the scent of evergreens. Fond memories followed couples as they stepped out into the cold wind after this enchanting evening.

PRECIOUS AND FEW OUR TIME TOGETHER

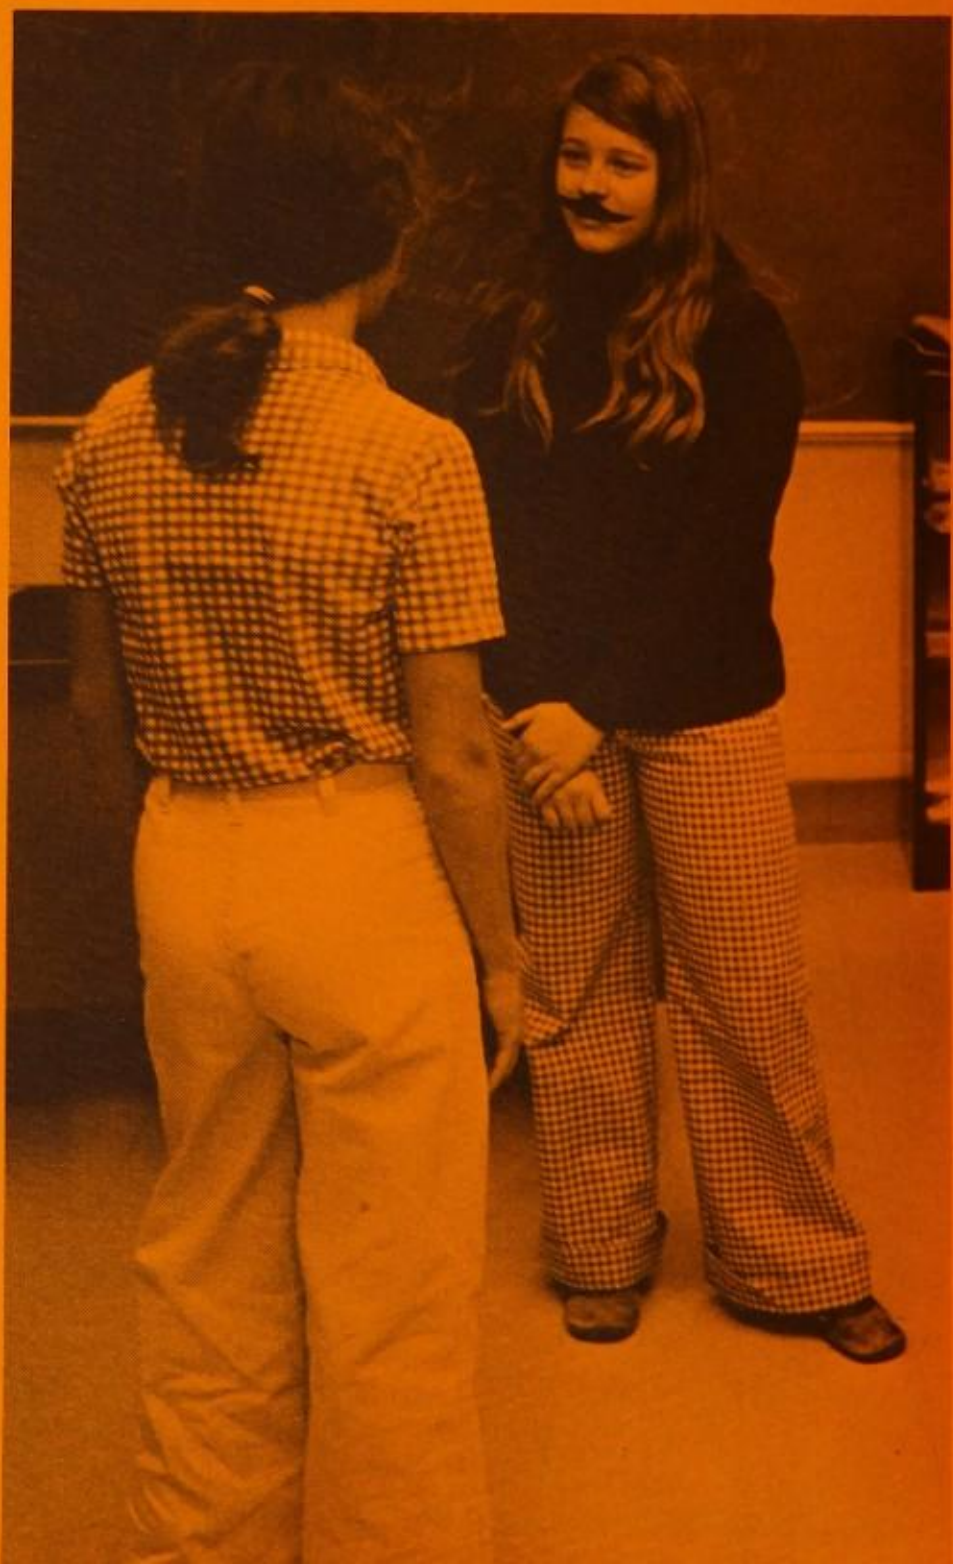

On March 30, 1974, the senior class sponsored the Spring Dance entitled "Precious and Few". This year, the crowning of the junior Spring Queen took place on the previous Wednesday evening. Along with the crowning ceremony, a cream pie eating contest, as well as other forms of entertainment, were offered. Cafeteria 25 was changed into a beautiful garden with pink paper roses and white lawn furniture. The music of the "Pleasure Principle" floated throughout the garden and around couples trying to make their few precious hours together last as long as possible. Someone tried to enter the cafeteria through the courtyard entrance but changed his mind and streaked off.

ENGLISH COMMUNICATES

Although the requirement for English has been reduced to three years, students still enjoy the range of activities offered in Communication Arts. Composition, acting, and literature classes are not all as dry as they seem. Papers involving interviews, observations and activities are often enjoyable and creative. Speeches are open for imagination, and acting creates personal satisfaction. The many plays and productions are a product of these classes plus the special talent and time of all the characters including the teachers.

A. Liz Fort and Julie Ash prepare a composition masterpiece. B. "My mustache is falling off," Eileen Bradley says to Jayne Rechenmacher.

C

A. "I know it's here some place," says Nancy Schafer. B. "Someone's poisoned my drink" exclaims Gwen Chirico. C. Mr. Pope's English class finds it easier to work on the floor.

TECH ARTS GROWS IN DIFFERENT FIELDS

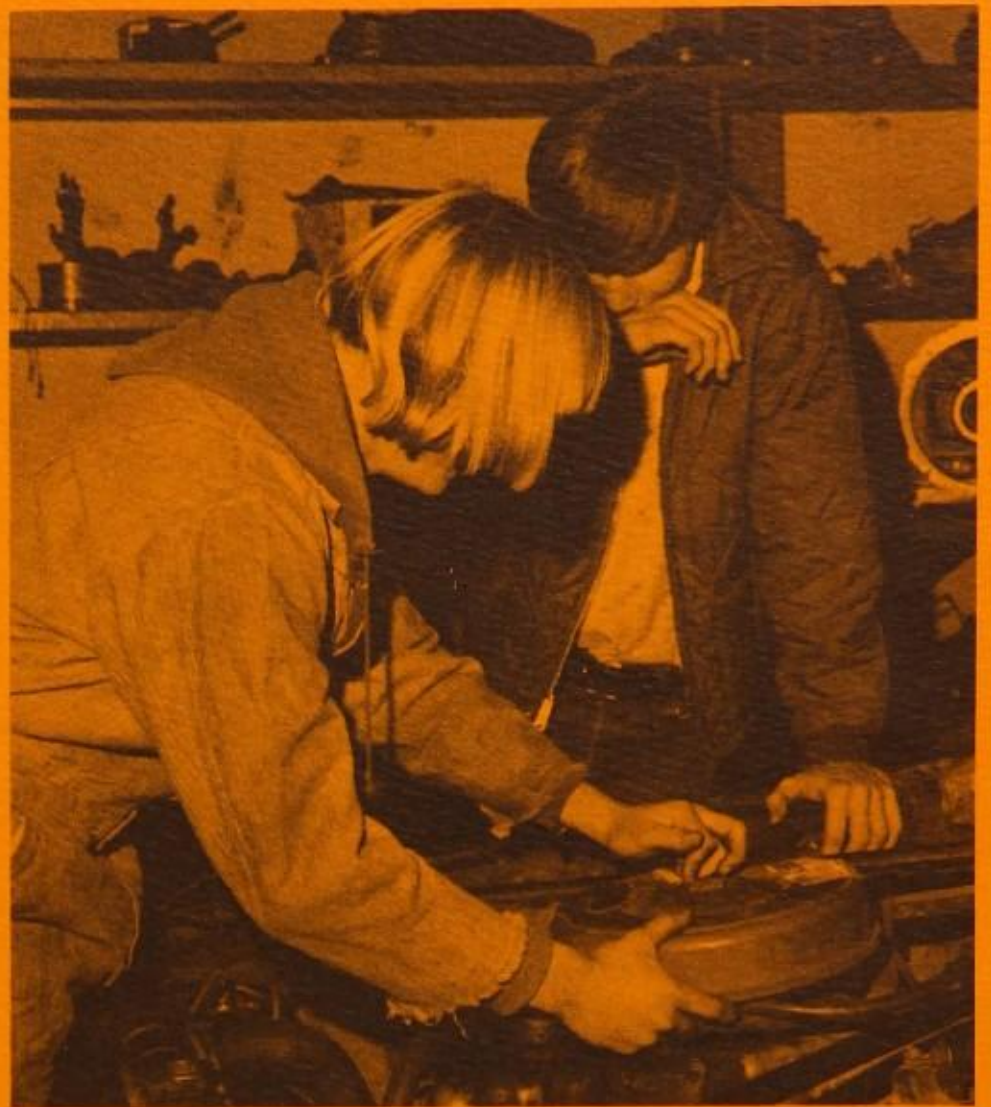

As our Tech. Arts classes grow in different fields, so does the interest of students. Thanks to International Harvester and Exxon, we received three brand new engines to pull apart, check, and destroy. Co-op. classes are becoming more of a part of Tech. Arts. These include health class, Co-op. Work trades, Industrial Co-op., and Ag. Co-op.

A. Dave Luebke hopes he gets a positive reaction this time. B. Don Lemke and Bill Witte laugh as they finally trap Larry Lujack, "Super Jock" inside. C. As Steve Green works on, Kent Fredenburger makes a final check.

SCIENCE EXPLODES WITH NEW IDEAS

Everyone knows that when they swing a bucket up in the air, the water doesn't fall out. But not everybody knows why. Physics students learned about this phenomena called Centripetal force. In Chemistry team teaching used three teachers so that while half the students were in lecture hall one day, the other half were experimenting. In Biology, Sportsman's Pond offered a unique plan for the students to collect different specimens for their experiments. New ideas keep science interesting.

STAIRWAY TO THE STARS

On the evening of May 18, 1974, couples climbed a red carpeted stairway into the stars. This marvelous stairway, created by the junior class, was located at D'Amico's in Joliet. Many smartly dressed couples climbed these stairs, surrounded by fluffy white clouds, to a waiting dance floor. There they spent three enchanting hours dancing in the stars, eating and posing for pictures. No wallflowers could be found that evening. Even though the dancing ended at eleven, couples strolled out arm and arm to dine and talk long into the night.

A. Gail Werth and D.J. Hennessy wait their turn to climb the stairway to the stars. B. What little secret does Marc Linne and Nancy Wisniewski know that they're not telling us? C. One little red ticket brought much happiness and memories to Ralph Nelson and Kay McKinley. D. Steve Rubin and Liz Schafer rock to the music of the "Wheelers". E. Gazing down from heaven on couples resting below are Dave Ellzy and his date Marguerite Smith. F. Sherry Hitchcock and date Bryan Troemel, Debbie Panariello and date Bill Gatone take a little rest from dancing to enjoy refreshments.

NEARING THE END

A Sunday evening Baccalaureate Service attended by about half of the 1974 graduating class was the first formal indication of the end of high school. The Reverend David Bauer gave the Invocation which began the hour-long service. The Concert Choir and Chorale followed singing "Alleluia". Senior Class Secretary, Debbie Meyer, gave a reading from Exodus. "Who Am I" was the theme of the Baccalaureate address given by Robert B. Green, Minister. The Choir then sang a rousing arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic". As the parents looked on, students marched out prepared for the next all-important event.

A

A. "Wait a minute," protests Paul Preusse, "I had nothing to do with jamming Eric's zipper!" Mr. Stromberg, Debbie Prescher, and Eric Reichus seem to think otherwise. B. The Concert Choir performed "Alleluia" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" for seniors and their parents. C. The 1974 graduates relaxes and enjoys the Concert Choir.

THE FUTURE IS NOW OURS!

On that humid rainy night of June 6, 754 students and their parents gathered for the graduation ceremony inside the gymnasium. Red and white garbed seniors filed into the gym to the strains of the "Grand March" all grasping name cards, and the girls clutching a red carnation. The Invocation was given by the Reverend Roger Creamer. Class President, D.J. Hennessy, presented the class gift of new pennants bearing the names of the new Upstate Eight teams. He also introduced speakers Lane Smith and Gary Enk who had been chosen to represent the class of 1974. At the end of the ceremony, Dr. Mattka turned 754 students out into the world. The future became ours!

The sudden death of Mr. Glen Riley during the school year was a tremendous shock to everyone who knew him and a great loss to the school. He was a man dedicated to his job; an excellent teacher, interested in his students and concerned with the school's problems. Mr. Riley's sense of humor and easy-going manner, along with his many other good qualities, endeared him to both teachers and students. This yearbook, Arrowhead '74, is dedicated in his memory and is a small token of the high esteem in which he is held.

WE DID IT INDIVIDUALLY

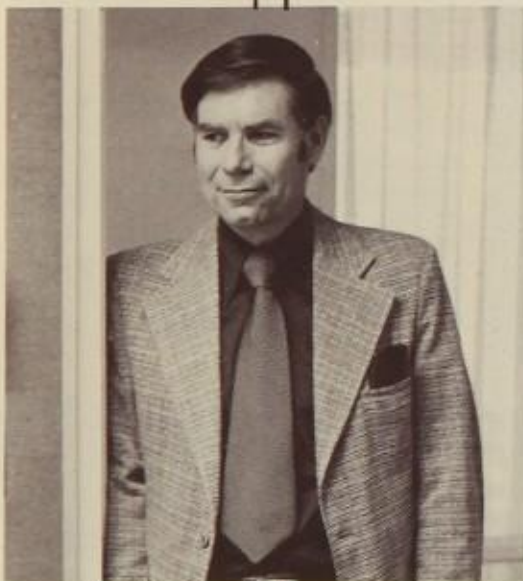

A. School Board members consider student concerns with students present for input. B. District 203 School Board, seated: Mrs. Darrell (Marjorie) Osborne, Mrs. Robert (Wilma) Reschke (Past President), Mrs. Wayne (MaryLou) Cowlshaw; standing: Mr. Thomas Bursh, Mr. Dean A. Davis (President), Mr. Andrew C. Wehrli, Mr. John O. Dahlberg. C. Dr. John Fields, Superintendent of Schools. D. Mrs. Phoebe Bickhaus, Coordinator of Public Information. E. Mr. Gary Martens, Director of Business Affairs. F. Mr. Robert Marshall, Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum, G. Dr. William Lawrence, Associate Superintendent of Schools, H. Dr. David Willard, Admin. Asst. to the Superintendent. I. Mr. Ron Gibson, Director of Personnel. J. Mr. Peter Gombert, Asst. Dir. of Business Affairs. K. Mr. Claude Lemert, Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds. L. Dr. Charles Mattka, Prin. Central High School, Mr. DeVerne Coleman, Prin. DISTRICT 203 IS ORGANIZED

Your school probably seems large to you, but it is only one part of District 203's thirteen primary and secondary schools. After board members set the goals and the policies, the Superintendent and his staff are organized to carry out the directives of the board for a good education for all students in Naperville's public schools.

SENIORS

We were late, but that didn't stop us from becoming great. Even though we were late in reaching Central we became the first and the best class to pass through North. New registration and open campus privileges were offered during our sophomore and junior years, as well as the opportunity to vote at eighteen. Senior year brought a smoking lounge second semester. This year a fall delivery was set for the yearbook, and the National Honor Society Induction came a bit off schedule. As the class of 1974, we always did things our way, with results not short of fantastic!

Arrowhead 74 is NCHS 74. Some people did it for fun, some people did it for credit, and some people did it, despite a mountain of problems, disappointments and frustrations, out of sheer dedication, pride and perseverance.

— George Koltz
1974 Arrowhead Advisor

The 1974 Arrowhead was planned by the editors, produced by two classes of Publication Production and finally completed through the efforts of editors Ellen Brazzale and Cathy Bauer. Technical assistance was provided by George Koltz, the Arrowhead Advisor, and Morris Ferensen, representing Hunter Publishing Company of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Special credits are due to photographers Tim Norris, Corey Bryan, and Root Studios of Chicago. Lori Shoulter created the artwork, and Amy Ash wrote the memorial copy.

This 1974 Edition, volume XXIX, is printed in red-black ink on 80# gloss enamel, tinted stock and Hunter Naturel paper. The end sheets are printed on 65# antique white cover stock. The type is six, eight, ten, and twelve point Metrolite. Most headlines are 24 point Orplid, Durand Mfg. Co. of Chicago produced the cover using a grained, air brushed Tyvek, a spun bonded Olefin fiber. The design was embossed and then silk screened.

BAND KEEPS MOVING

Football season was the busiest it has ever been for Marching Band. With five shows to present in the fall, each week new formations had to be learned. Concert season included competition in the IHSA contest. The annual trip was to Six Flags and the University of Illinois for a marching clinic. This was the first year that freshman earned the gold braid for perfect performance on 24 scales.

BUSY SEASON

The 105-voice TREBLE CHOIR continues to add stature to its growing esteem and reputation. This year the girls not only gave their regular school concerts, but also sang for a number of community and church events as well. They highlighted their season by presenting a mid-winter program as part of the Noon-Hour Concert Series for the Chicago Public Library, and as has become their custom over the past half dozen years, once more returned from the IHSA Music Contest with a Superior rating.

SING AND LEARN

The advancing choirs — which include the FRESHMAN GIRLS and MIXED CHORUSES at North, and the INTERMEDIATE MIXED CHORUS at Central — number nearly 200 singers, and prepare interested students for the upper class level groups. They gained needed knowledge and experience both through classroom study and then demonstrated what they had learned through participation in the annual Christmas, Mid-winter and Spring concerts.

TO THEE WE SING

The 100-voice Concert Choir is the mainstay for all choral activities, with their highlight of the year being sponsorship of the annual musical. They serve as the supporting chorus and overall guiding force. They perform as the finale for the major concerts of the year at Christmas and in the Spring in Pfeiffer Hall on the North Central College campus. Usually they join forces with the orchestra in a major choral work for one of these programs — which this year was at Christmas with Normand Lockwood's exciting "Carol Fantasy". "Texas dirt" — the head to toe makeup used for the musical — attested to participation in "The King and I", and probably still brings back memories as it continues to come out in the wash.

MIGHTY MADRIGALS

They went — they sang — they conquered! The highly select 32-voice Double Madrigal Chorale received the ultimate praise when they were invited (out of approximately 500 musical groups from across the country) to appear before the national convention of the Music Educators National Conference in Anaheim, California, in March. With Disneyland directly across the street from their motel, business was very easily mixed with pleasure. Other high points included a concert at the University of Wis., a program for a district III. Music Educators Festival, a Christmas program at the Chicago Public Library, and a workshop for the Carl Fischer Music Publishers in Chicago where they introduced 14 brand new publications.

ACTING OR IMPROVISING?

This year the student directed Spring One-Acts were a combination of comedy, drama, and improvisation. "The Browning Version" was a drama of a school teacher, his student and his marital problems. "A Thurber Carnival" was a variety of short sketches by James Thurber. "Impromptu" was a group of actors sent to the theatre to put on a performance. If there was any doubt if all the plays were improvised or not, it proved their performances were spectacular.

HIGHLIGHTED SEASON

There were many highlights this past year for both Forensics and Thespians. The first annual Tourney of Champions was held this year in Pekin, Ill. which three students from Forensics, Liz Soukup, David Ellzey, Kip Wahl, qualified for. The District competition was won by David Ellzey and Kip Wahl. The members of Thespians were active in many performances, such as the State Play, Musical, and Fall Play.

AN EVENING OF ORAL INTER- PRETATION

On the evening of Friday, December 14, nine students presented "An Evening of Oral Interpretation." They performed poetry, short stories, and drama. The show served a double purpose: to present oral interpretation to the public and to begin yet another annual dramatic event.

DRAMA MARKS THE STAGE

In November, Tennessee Williams beautiful and haunting Glass Menagerie came to the Little Theater. The lives of a family were torn apart by the depressing state of world affairs, while their own inadequacies prevented them from communicating with each other and coping with life as it really was. Within the framework of St. Louis in the 1930's Williams' characters portrayed the basic emotions that human beings live through.

A. Diane Alfrey explains, "It isn't a flood, its not a tornado, Mother. I'm just not popular like you were in Blue Mountain . . ." B. "Here he is with the silver cup for debating! See his grin?" says Diane. C. "— for nowdays the world is lit by lighting. Blow out your candles, Laura — and so good-bye." concludes Gary Miller.

D

IT'S HEE HAW!

"Potpourri '73," a Country Western Jamboree; HEE-HAW!, 'rang out loud and clear from Pfeiffer Hall this fall as chorus members and their parents joined together for a real rip-snortin' time. Many talents were shown, ranging from country ballads to barbershop talk to a real live scarecrow dance. The country jokes combined with pigs right out of the pen made an enjoyable time for everyone.

CHINESE TALES

The NCHS Children's Little Theater this year presented two plays entitled "The Lost Prince" and "The Stolen Princess." One whole Friday was spent presenting the plays to busloads of small elementary classes. An intermission of magic by Dan Langlois and narrated finale by Ann Feeney rounded out the performances. The Chinese Setting continued through Saturday and concluded with a birthday party for one of the people in the audience.

BAREFOOT WITHOUT TENNIS SHOES

While streaking was in full swing, "Barefoot in the Park" drew a large crowd. The spring play concerned a newlywed couple adjusting to marriage and each other. The personalities of the frivolous Corie and conservative Paul mingled to make a delightful comedy. The romance between the upstairs neighbor and Corie's mother also added flavor to the scene. After many hours of fancy footwork, Mrs. Rink's cast and crew presented outstanding performances.

COME HEAR THE MUSIC PLAY

The NNHS and NCHS bands helped turn Cafeteria 66 into a swining nightclub. Two music groups, dancing girls and a magician entertained the audience as they dined on popcorn and root beer. Cabaret drew another large crowd this year, and will hopefully become a tradition with the Naperville High Schools.

NNHS PRESENTS . .

Naperville North presented two one-act plays on March 8th. and 9th. "No Alterations" shows the effect of a spontaneous adolescent upon the life of a shy spinster who has lived a resigned, emotion free life. "His Wife, the Midnight Trumpet Player" is about a zany young woman whose insomnia cure consists of playing her trumpet before bedtime. Both these plays were directed by Donald Reimer of the NNHS staff.

ALL WORK AND LOTS OF PLAY

The cast of Abelard and Heloise met their challenge and went all the way to state. This romantic tragedy ended in the death of Abelard and the retreat of Heloise to a convent. The chanting of the chorus, the costumes, and the superior acting of the characters helped the play win district competition, take second in sectionals, and for the first time since 1959 go on to place in state. Under the direction of Mr. Gaydos the cast and crew achieved fourth out of 288 original competing plays throughout the state.

THE SPRING MUSICAL "WHISTLES A HAPPY TUNE"

The 1974 Music Department presented as it's spring musical, Rodger's and Hammerstein's "The King and I". The story occurs in the country of Siam. Mrs. Leonowens, a widowed English tutor, travels to Siam with her son to become schoolteacher for the many children of the king. She also manages to get involved with the political and social problems of the country and within the palace. The king loses face before his people because he cannot beat a recovered bride-to-be who tried to run off with her lover. Out of her love for the king and his children, Anna promises to the dying king that she will remain and guide the new king. Because the cast and crew performed so magnificently, and because of the great sell-out of the other performances, a Sunday Matinee was added to the schedule.

WE'RE NO. 1!

"We're good!! We're great!! We're no. 1 in the Upstate Eight!!" The NCHS Varsity team captured the championship for the first time in the UEC. Hard practice every day, and the "Guano squad" scrimmages helped to make the season a huge success. School spirit was indeed high, and shown by the packed stands at each homegame. A season well done with a well deserved victory!

HAPPINESS IS A REDSKIN VICTORY

... and it was proven again by the Sophomore and Freshman teams. The Sophomore teams came off great with a record of 7-0 for the A team, 2-6 for the B, with a winning combined effort. Both Freshman teams ended with good records of 6-1 each. The underclass teams proved that in the future, there will be many more Redskin victories.

ARROWETTES ON THE WARPATH

"And here's the Naperville Central Arrowettes!" was the familiar halftime phrase heard at both football and basketball games. Armed with feathers, warpaint and other props, the squad made halftimes enjoyable to watch. Despite some problems, the girls came through with new checkered shorts, a variety of steps, lively music and a "bare minimum" of aids to keep the girls smiling throughout their routines. Wrigleys' Gum commercials may just never be the same again.

The J.V. swimming team of Coach Slaybaugh had a winning season with a record of 14-2 in dual meets, and 10-0 conference meets. Freshman Bob Weaver and Sophomore Todd Neuman helped the team to their first-place win in the conference meet which they shared with Elgin Central.

Mr. Trossen, the patriarch of Naperville swimmers, once again led his Varsity swimmers to a victorious season. Co-captains were Paul Preusse and Bob Lullo. At state, Bob placed 3rd in the 50-yd. freestyle. Winning the conference championships with 8-3 in dual meets and 8-0 in conference meets, the team finished 4th in the district.

GIRLS JUGGLE WAY TO GREAT SUCCESS

The NCHS Girls Field Hockey team ended it's second season with a superb record. Traveling as far as Lockport, or playing right here on the home field, the girls were always able to move the ball down the field and through the net. Mrs. Joan Callaway coached the girls and inspired them in juggling their way to a great success.

1, 2, 3, OVER

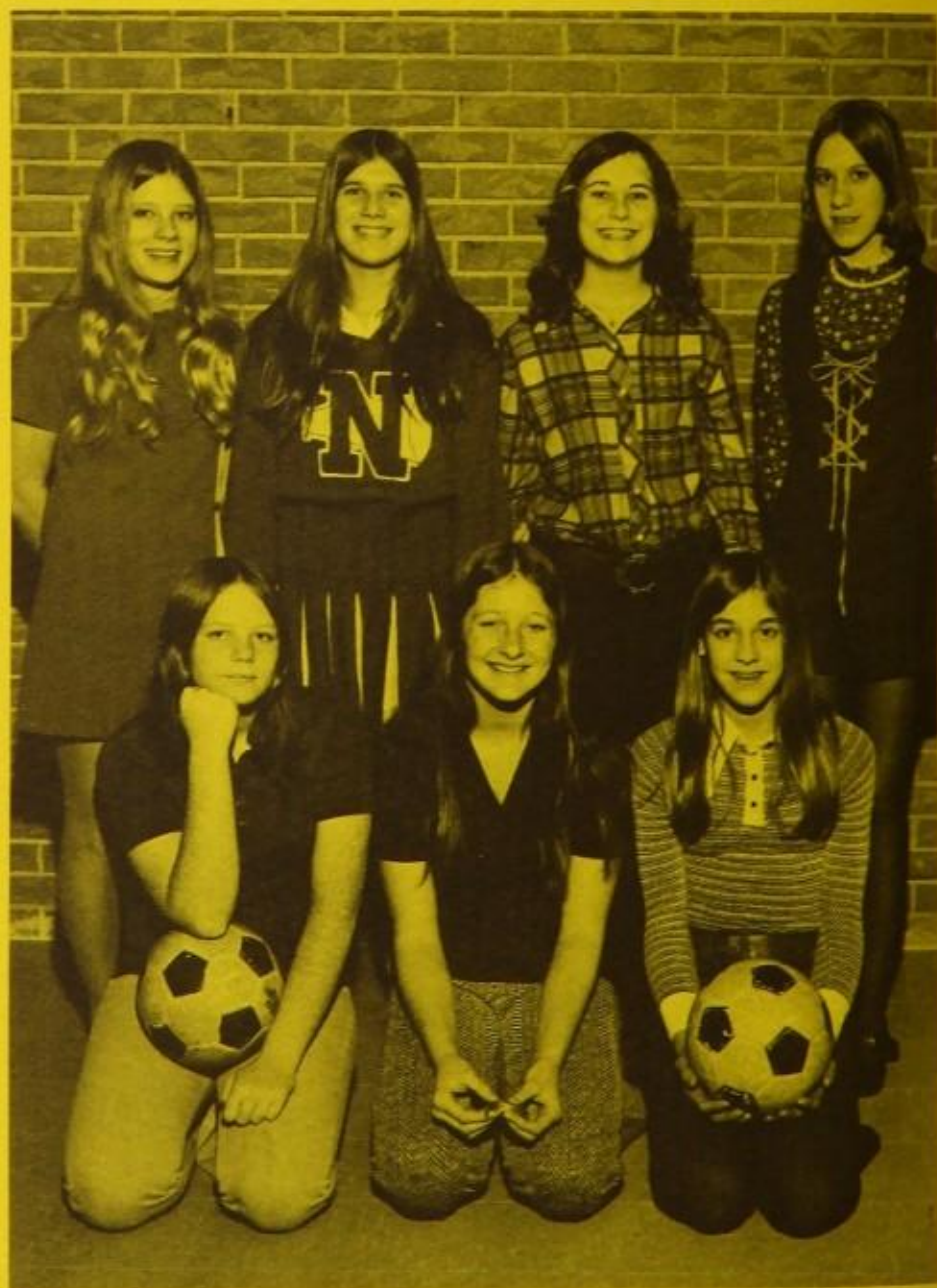

The girls volleyball team had a great 12-3 season. Their mascot, a goose named Gar, accompanied them to battle. Each game began with the cry DOLE!! (as in bananas). They landed in the top ten of the Chicago Area schools, losing only to the champs.

GIRLS TUMBLE TO VICTORY

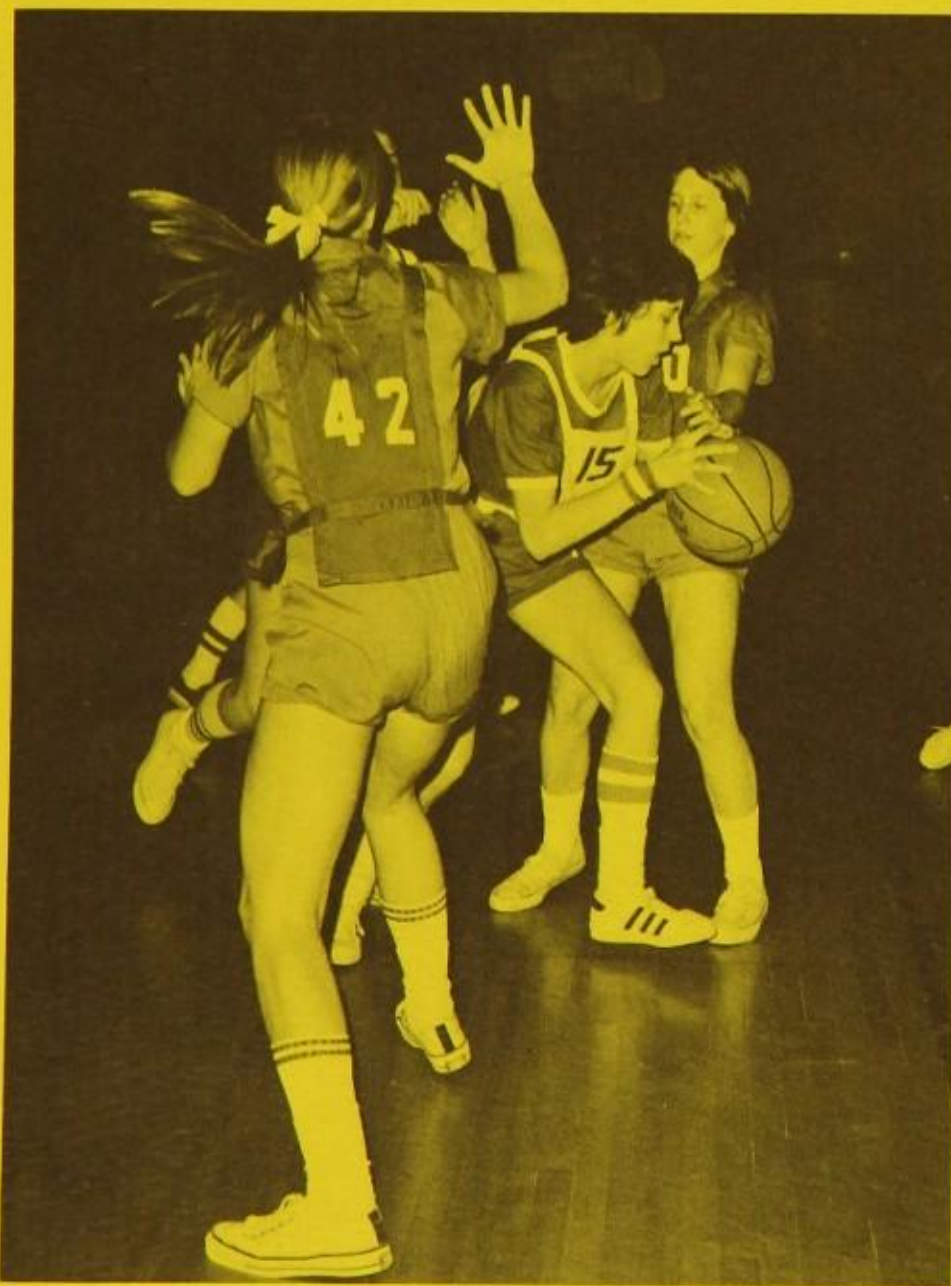

The NCHS Girls gymnastics team had a good season. The hours of hard work and practice paid off when the judges seemed to favor the girls. Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Hawkins helped the girls work on, and perfect new routines. Team spirit was a big asset and helped to get them thru the rough meets.

GIRLS SHOOT FOR FIRST

When the whistle sounded to the end the final game, the Redskin girls had every reason to stand up and cheer their 6-1 season record. Before games the fired-up girls could be found jogging around the gym practicing lay-ups to "Sweet Georgia Brown." Encouraged and coached by Sonny Foster the girls were able to shoot their way to a first place conference tie with Elgin.

BASKETBALL PLAYERS END A GREAT SEASON

The Varsity Basketball Team had a winning season under the rigorous coaching of Mr. O'Neil. Posting a record of 19-7 in all games, and 9-5 for UEC games, the five starters; Caspermeyer, Daum, Morgan, Nelson, and Chew formed an outstanding wall of defensive and offensive playing. Led by the expert coaching of Mike Somers, the J.V. basketball team finished with a fairly good season. The team was led by juniors Dick Walsh and Ken Potter.

GIRLS WIN SIX

Despite the monsoon season, the girls 1974 Softball team's spirit was never dampened. Starting off the season with a wet and muddy win over the Elgin Maroons, Naperville went on to hit their way to another interesting season. Coached by Joan (Clark) Callaway, the girls were undefeated in their six years of play.

BASEBALL SMACKS BIG

With the help of coaches Yndestad and Peterson, the Varsity season was once again a victorious and memorable achievement. Hitting, pitching and fielding were the key factors on those windy, rainy days. For the JV, their toughest, most exciting game was that against the Wheaton-Warrenville Varsity. Our JV Squad played hard, winning in the last half of the game, but were disappointed, losing in the last inning by an outfield error.
